PRESIDENT: Senator Wesely can answer your question, maybe.

SENATOR KAHLE: Okay, Senator Wesely.

SENATOR WESELY: Where will the tuition payments come from?

SENATOR KAHLE: Yeah.

SENATOR WESELY: Right now, if, if that family had left, they go to the family and say, you have to pay the $3,000 plus dollars for tuition. The family pays the tuition for their child.

SENATOR KAHLE: And where would this tuition be paid to?

SENATOR WESELY: To the school district.

SENATOR KAHLE: So they'd have to waive the tuition if they couldn't afford to pay it, is that what you're saying?

SENATOR WESELY: No. Let me explain it one more time.

SENATOR KAHLE: Okay.

SENATOR WESELY: Right now the school district that's faced with this decision, like I said the family moves out, the kid's finishing their senior year, they don't have any choice. They can't say, well you can finish it out. This would say to that school district, if you wanted to, you could waive the tuition requirement because it was the midyear and they could finish out the year and wouldn't have to pay the tuition. So, that's, it's really up to the school board. They don't have to do this. They can if they want or they don't have to.

SENATOR KAHLE: Okay, I understand. It would be kids that moved out of the district during the school year.

SENATOR WESELY: Yeah.

SENATOR KAHLE: Thank you.
